MURMUR OF THE HEART

A sensitive and funny tale of a French boy growing up.

HOW
HBO WORKS

There's a bonanza of new happenings this month at HBO! A new guide, a major new entertainment series called Standing Room Only, the new HBO Playhouse (a series of outstanding children's programs), Sports Specials, NBA and NHL Playoffs...but more about these later. First, a look at the new guide—designed to give you a more interesting and convenient schedule. On this page of program highlights will be the month's Sunday-Friday Premiere Movies and HBO Exclusives along with Of Special Note where we'll single out a few other programs that are unique or that you may especially enjoy. Then turn to the current day's schedule where the program descriptions and listings are on the same page. Sometimes, due to more programs than paper space we won't be able to fit all the program descriptions next to the schedule. So we've put page numbers with the listings for quick reference. Description gives a summary, rating, running time and alternate play dates. Check Sound-track on page 22 for more about what's new this month.

HBO

With Bill Cosby, Raquel Welch and Harvey Keitel playing the title roles, the J & B Ambulance Company tries to lay claim to enough catastrophes—at $42.50 each (plus 50¢ a mile)—to stay in business. The result is a M*A*S*H of a movie with memorable moments of outrageous black comedy. See mean Dick Butkus as an ambulance driver named Rodeo: Welch, always a siren, does some fine acting too. PG-Adult humor. (1:37) April 3,5,7,11,16,19,29

THE BAWDY ADVENTURES OF Tom Jones
(and all NEW)

Yes, it's plunging necklines and fluffed-up skirts, grand exits through windows and thundering fox hunts. The cast is perfect—especially Terry Thomas as the stuffy tutor, Trevor Howard as a lecherous old reprobate and Joan Collins as Black Bess, the most seductive highwaywoman ever to hold a pistol. But best of all, it's set to a musical score that makes this Tom Jones adventure a uniquely brash and delightfully bawdy romp. R-Adult humor and theme dealing primarily with sex. (1:28) April 1,4,7,12,17

HBO PLAYHOUSE
LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY
If you've always thought Fauntleroy a snob, this film will change your mind. Here he's good to the core. He returns to England from America to be the family heir. From the scenery down to the buttons on Fauntleroy's boots, this BBC film has the fine features of earlier BBC films shown on HBO — now award winners playing on PBS stations. April 2,5,7,10,15,16,18,21,23,30

SKY RIDERS The problem looks insurmountable when wealthy Robert Culp's family is held by terrorists atop a mountain fortress. But James Coburn and his hang gliders have an aerial solution. PG-Strong language (1:37) April 2

NHL PLAYOFF

At press time we anticipate a first round playoff game on April 7th. In case the game is played earlier, be sure to check the HBO program listings on your television Tuesday through Thursday. If the game replaces a movie, that movie will be shown at the time the game was originally scheduled.

Sammy Davis Jr.

This HBO special production concludes it's March Premiere run. Sammy's entire nightclub act includes the classic Rock-a-bye Your Baby sung in voice impressions from Bogart to Brando. A must! April 1,6,20

W.C. Fields and Me

W.C. FIELDS AND ME Rod Steiger stars as the caustic W.C. in a funny-sad film bio that shows this pure original on film was a pure contradiction in life. Even a man who hated dogs and kids had to love someone. Valerie Perrine co-stars as the someone. PG-Strong language. (1:51) April 2,5,15

MURDER ON DIAMOND ROW (1937) An ex-Scotland Yard detective (Edmund Lowe) looking to get back on the force ferrets out a double-dealing jewel "fence" in a neat tale of murder and gems. Alistair Sim co-stars in a British sparkler. (B/W-1:16) April 6,10,13

LEPKE Tony Curtis is the violent star of the life and crimes of Louis "Lepke" Buchalter, who rose from pick-pocket to charter member of Murder, Inc. Things get bloody when Lepke decides to become chairman of the board. R-Violence. (1:49) April 6,29

DOG DAY AFTERNOON

Pacino plays the befuddled "brains" behind an incredible Brooklyn bank robbery that starts as a 10 minute caper and ends as a 12 hour circus. Filled with energy, biting humor and an electric performance by Pacino. R-Strong language, mature theme. (2:05) April 5,15

3 DAYS OF THE CONDOR

His CIA code name is Condor. In 72 hours everyone he trusts will try to kill him. Robert Redford suddenly becomes the unwilling target for his own ambitious colleagues. Why? Along with Faye Dunaway, Cliff Robertson and a perfectly evil Max von Sydow, Redford desperately tries to put together the pieces of this deadly puzzle—before his moonlighting CIA friends put him on ice. Complex, suspenseful and lip-biting right to the end. R-Adult theme and graphic violence. April 10,14,18,23,25

"FAREWELL, MY LOVELY"

Looking hard-boiled as cement, Robert Mitchum stars in this Raymond Chandler classic. A wake of mayhem and murder trails Mitchum across the mean streets of 1940s Los Angeles when a missing person job erupts into a case of blackmail. R-Violence, rough language. (1:35) April 9,13

GEORGE CARLIN ON LOCATION

Welcome to 90 minutes of fine, unfettered madness with George Carlin. It's a television first—since network censorship hasn't allowed regular audiences to see a good deal of Carlin's hilarity. So here he is with a free rein. Whether it's the wacky world of the Hippy-Dippy Weatherman or streetwise kids of the 50s, it's an evening of original and very funny entertainment. Also, don't miss the off-stage Carlin in a candid interview. April 8,11,14,16,19,24

MURMUR OF THE HEART

This witty and powerful film is the portrait of Laurent—a sensitive, 15-year old boy growing up in a French household with two precocious brothers, a genial father and a free-spirited mother. Director Louis Malle creates a reminiscence that is fresh, human and engagingly funny. No rating—however, film has candid attitude towards sex. (Subtitled-1:57) April 13,19,27

MANCHU EAGLE MURDER

CAPER MYSTERY Gabriel Dell stars as a mail-order private eye whose misadventures in solving a rash of small town rub outs keep you guessing—and laughing. Harried police chief Jackie Coogan and frazzled country doctor Will Geer add to the fun. Adult humor. (1:22) April 1,3,11

THE BLUE BIRD Two peasant children take off on a magical mystery tour in search of the blue bird of happiness. Elizabeth Taylor, Ava Gardner and Cicely Tyson star in this opulent Russian-American production which features members of the Moscow circus. Rated G. (1:38) April 4,14

92 IN THE SHADE Peter Fonda wants to go in business as a fishing guide for Florida tourists. Veteran guide Warren Oates, who doesn't like free enterprise, moves to eliminate the competition—permanently. R-Nudity, adult theme. (1:33) April 3,8,11,23

STANDING ROOM ONLY

Welcome to Home Box Office's newest entertainment series, Standing Room Only. It's a fantastic monthly showcase of headline performers whose acts are produced exclusively for the HBO audience. In fact, we've made a multi-million dollar commitment to provide you not only with exceptional, but unique performances.

For example, take last month's special, An evening with Sammy Davis, Jr. It was the first time Sammy's nightclub act—whole and uncut—was ever presented to television audiences. The Smothers Brothers' Last Stand, shown exclusively on HBO, was the final performance of everybody's favorite sibling rivals. Bette Midler's incredible two hour show—complete with all those raucous Midler jokes—had the critics raving. We wouldn't have dreamed of tampering with any of her savagely funny lines!

This month, Ann Conio's This Was Burlesque brings you a hurley burley mix of baggy pants comics, exotic strip tease artists and classic comedy sketches. It's an evening that recalls the flash, glamour and sparkle of old burlesque—another television first. Next month we'll bring you Raquel Welch high-stepping in her own revue from the Sahara Hotel in Lake Tahoe where she's wowed critics and audiences alike.

Standing Room Only is the only place we know where you can see dazzling performances and take a trip backstage. We took HBO viewers into the wings of the Juan Ruiz theatre in Acapulco where we followed Sammy through a vigorous day of rehearsals. You'll watch Raquel Welch practice her act and—short of breath—take time out between routines to talk about herself and show business. On HBO you see more than if you're in the live audience!

Standing Room Only is one more place to find entertainment with the extra special quality that HBO is all about. It assures you that the best show around is always on your home screen. With no standing, no waiting, no tickets to buy.

ANN CORIO'S This Was Burlesque

This revue ramps its way across the footlights in a burley-burley mix of comedy, dance, song, and unique acts in the venerable art of striptease. It's the essence of a form of naughty theatre that was the rage of the 1930s and made a staggering comeback in the 60s and 70s. The show stars Ann Corio in a selection of classic comedy sketches. Jerry Lester is top banana joined by vaude-

ST. IVES

With gruff grace, sagging eyes and cool resolve, Charles Bronson Bogarts his way through this hair-raising adventure. A former police reporter, Ray St. Ives is asked to be middleman in the exchange of $100,000 for a batch of stolen journals. The journals must contain a deadly secret since everyone who takes a peek ends up that way. St. Ives grins and bears his double-crosses to the final shattered window and bent fender. Also look for sexy co-star Jacqueline Bisset as a very classy gun moll. PG-Some violence. (1:34) April 15, 17, 21, 23, 26

ville veteran Maxie Furman and Josip Elic as straight man. Lee Meredith, the bosomy blonde who played in The Sunshine Boys, is the female top banana. You'll also see the exotic talents of Luna, Phoenix Flame, and Jennifer Fox, the best known transsexual striptease artist. The chorus is brimming with pretty, talented girls who recall 30's hoofers on the road to the big time. It's a great evening and a rousing beginning for Standing Room Only. April 17, 21, 25, 30

THE BAWDY ADVENTURES OF TOM JONES Nicky Henson plays the fun-loving Tom who, when he's not tweaking bottoms, is pulling the nose of his rival, Blifil.

THE ABDICATION Norwegian Liv Ullmann stars as Swedish Queen Christina who leaves her throne, journeys to Rome and converts to Catholicism. Vatican priest Peter Finch is sorely tempted to renounce his vow of chastity. PG-Adult concepts. (1:43) April 17, 25

Brian De Palma, the director of Carrie, calls this heart-stopper his "romantic suspense drama." Oscar-winner Cliff Robertson is a successful New Orleans businessman whose wife (Genevieve Bujold) and daughter are kidnapped and then murdered in a bungled police chase. Fifteen years later, in Florence, Italy, he encounters a girl who bears a startling resemblance to his long dead spouse—and a bizarre obsession begins to take control of his life. Moving his camera like a stealthy observer, director De Palma sustains the tension with the sure cinematic strokes of Hitchcock himself. Chill-seekers are cordially invited to stay seated for the shocking and ingenious climax. PG-Adult situations. (1:38)

"Our training table will have stale bread and vodka," joked an official of the most unique new team in sports, The Soviets of World Team Tennis. These players, all from the U.S.S.R., surely won't eat stale bread. But with Alex Metreveli and Olga Morazova in the lineup they may well sip vodka to toast victories. Philadelphia will be a hometown of sorts of The Soviets, who can be seen on April 26th against the Indiana Loves. HBO will be covering the WTT during the season through the playoffs in August.

STEVE MARTIN ON LOCATION

Steve Martin encores his zany act taped exclusively for HBO. His "Mr. Cool" and magic tricks that don't work are especially funny. April 9, 27

PLAYOFF GAME

At press time, a second round NHL or third round NBA playoff is anticipated. In case of change, check the HBO daily program listings on television for the week of April 26th.

FUNNY LADY Funny girl Barbra Streisand has new troubles—and new songs. Her love for ex-spouse Omar Sharif threatens her marriage to songster Billy Rose (James Caan). PG-Mature theme. (2:20) April 10, 30

HBO SOUNDTRACK

Soundtrack is a new monthly feature that will keep you up-to-date on programs, scheduling and what's happening at HBO. Your comments are always welcome. Drop us a line and let us know what you're thinking.

Children's Programming

"NEW" seems to be the key word this month. The Guide has a new look. The new Standing Room Only series kicks off with This Was Burlesque. And there's a new spring of World Team tennis. Also we're particularly proud of HBO Playhouse, the new series of children's programs that will run through the summer. This group of movies comes from BBC, the producers of earlier films which showed on HBO and went on to win a public broadcasting award for "Achievement in Children's Television." Quality children's programming continues to be a mainstay at HBO.

Hockey and basketball playoffs

We want to call your attention to one more programming note—the beginning of professional basketball and hockey playoffs. In this month's schedule there are five probable playoff dates: April 7, 12, 21, 27, 28. The final playoff schedule and the contenders will not be decided until well after this guide goes to press. We've tried to determine which nights these playoff games will be and if we're right, the schedule will remain unchanged. If a playoff happens at a time we have not scheduled, we'll try to show the game and run the movie it replaces at the time the game was originally scheduled. We hope you'll appreciate the difficulty of scheduling these playoff games, and we'll try our best to minimize the interruptions of the regular schedule.

Fridays and Sundays are premiere nights

Much is new this month—and every month. However, you can still look to Friday and Sunday nights for the premiere showings of new films or specials. Wednesdays continue to be premiere nights for classics and foreign films. For your convenience these programs run again at different times on different days during the next four weeks.
